SALE OF OLD SPANISH COINS.

Considering the weather conditions of yesterday the attendance at Lyman H. Low's auction sale, at No. 14 East 23d street, of Spanish coins and medals collected by the late Señor Don A. Gonzalez del Valle was regarded as good. Besides a number of local bidders, many from far off cities were represented by agents, and there was keen competition from abroad in the bidding. Mr. Low represented several bidders in Frankfurt, Germany. The foreign dollars of the better class and their parts brought from $3 to $30 each, and the better class of proclamation medals ranged from $3.50 to $8. The highest price paid at the sale was $30 for a Philip-pus IV 50-real Spanish piece, dated 1626. It was said to be fine and extremely rare and among the largest silver coins that have ever been struck for any country. Its reverse shows the arms of Castile and Leon quartered in cartouche. There will be a sale of United States and foreign coins and tokens at the same place this afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock.

FOREWORD.

A LARGE number of pieces in this collection have become darkened on one side—a few on both obverse and reverse—from long exposure. Some slightly, others more pronouncedly, but none, I believe, positively bad or irreclaimable. With these remarks prefaced, the condition is given without further reference to this particular.

Those which are stated to be holed have this blemish near the edge, and above the head, unless otherwise mentioned. In Spanish-American countries it has for a long time been a common custom to use such pieces as watch charms and pendants, and among the Indians to wear them about the neck. These with many pieces of the regular coinages were thus bored at the time they were taken from the mints.

The cast pieces—sometimes as rendered, others tooled, partially or entire—are original, and do not exist otherwise.

Only a slight attempt has been made to represent the varied punctuations in the legends. They cannot be reproduced in type, and the same may be stated about monograms and N's with diagonals reversed.

Throughout the series of Medals, all are in silver unless otherwise stated.

The gentleman who drew together this important Collection, almost solely relating to Spain, is to be commended for his splendid achievements and his enthusiastic love of the science of numismatics. It is doubtless the most important of the class that has ever been offered for sale in the United States, either publicly or privately.

The collection of Mr. Benjamin Betts, dispersed by myself in 1898—of which frequent mention is made in this catalogue—contained 221 Spanish-American Proclamation pieces. It was the monumental effort in Western World collecting. The present offering has just ten less, but the whole number of Proclamations is 382.

“Contemporary Medals,” by the late Wyllys Betts, included a large number of these interesting pieces, but it has been thought best to confine references to Herrera’s work and the Betts catalogue, both of which I judge are within the reach of collectors interested in the series.

While the values are given as quoted by Herrera, it is to be remembered that his work was based on opinions of 25 years ago. These must now necessarily be changed, if we are to be guided by the marked differences in transactions that are prevailing. Very few if any series are less thought of, or cared for, while the great majority have largely increased in price.

The Museums and prominent collections elsewhere, have gradually gathered them in. The supply cannot be increased; therefore the opportunities to possess are annually diminished.

Part Two which is to follow in September, will contain the series of Ancient Rome, Celtiberian, Medieval and Modern Silver coins below the Dollar size, Medals, etc., including about 70 lots of gold.

Authorities quoted: H., Adolfo Herrera on Spanish Proclamation Medals, Madrid, 1882–84; B. C., Cat. of the Collection of Benjamin Betts, Brooklyn, N. Y., dispersed by auction in January, 1898.
